Where Do the Candidates Stand on Abortion

Abortion on Demand

The 1973 Roe v Wade v Bolton Supreme Court decisions legalized abortion on demand throughout the United States. There have been more than 59 million abortions since then.

“Let me be clear - I am pro-life... I did not always hold this position, but I had a significant personal experience that brought the precious gift of life into perspective for me.”

In 2003, Clinton voted to endorse Roe v Wade, which allows abortion for any reason. In 2016, she said, “The unborn person doesn’t have constitutional rights,” later adding she believed this to be true even on the unborn child’s due date.

Partial-Birth Abortion

The partial-birth abortion procedure - used from the fifth month on - involves pulling a living baby feet first out of the womb, except for the head, puncturing the skull and suctioning out the brain. The Partial-Birth Abortion Ban was upheld by the U.S. Supreme Court in 2007 in a 5-4 decision.

In 2000, in his book The America We Deserve, Donald Trump wrote that after consulting with doctors about the partial-birth abortion procedure, he concluded that he would support a ban on that method.

In 2003, Hillary Clinton voted against the Partial-Birth Abortion Ban Act (voted to allow partial-birth abortions to continue) every chance she had.

Nominations to the U.S. Supreme Court

The next president may have the opportunity to appoint three or four justices to the U.S. Supreme Court.

In May 2016, Donald Trump released a list of eleven conservative judges whom he would consider for a Supreme Court vacancy, saying, “By the way, these judges are all pro-life.”

Hillary Clinton has said that she would only nominate Supreme Court justices who would uphold the decision that legalized abortion on demand. “I would not appoint someone who didn’t think Roe v Wade is settled law.”

Vice Presidential Candidates

Mike Pence

Mike Pence had a solid pro-life voting record on abortion during 12 years in the U.S. House, including votes for passage of the Partial-Birth Abortion Ban Act. As Governor of Indiana, Mike Pence championed many pro-life measures.

Tim Kaine

Tim Kaine voted against the pro-life position in the U.S. Senate every chance he had. Tim Kaine co-sponsored a bill (S. 217) that would nullify virtually all state limits on abortion, including late abortions.

10 examples illustrating how extreme Hillary Clinton is on abortion

Abortion under any circumstance is Clinton's position.

Excerpts - Dave Andrusko,
NRLC News Today 9/9/2016

1) The unborn never has any rights, including up to just hours before delivery. In April, Chuck Todd, on Meet the Press, asked Clinton: "When, or if, does an unborn child have constitutional rights?" She answered, "Well, under our laws currently, that is not something that exists. The unborn person doesn't have constitutional rights."

Two days later Paula Faris (of The View) was able to ask a follow up question. "You said, quote, 'the unborn person doesn't have constitutional rights.' My question is at what point does someone have constitutional rights, and are you saying that a child, on its due date, just hours before delivery still has no constitutional rights?" Clinton responded, "Under our law, that is the case, Paula. I support Roe v Wade."

Hillary Clinton = undying commitment to abortion on demand

2) Hillary Clinton received the endorsement of Planned Parenthood, the first time the nation's largest abortion provider has endorsed a Democrat in the primary. In an interview with Planned Parenthood CEO Cecile Richards, Clinton vowed her allegiance to preventing pro-life bills from becoming laws. "I want to be that president that will say, 'Forget about it. Don't waste your time; you know you're not getting past me.'"

3) Hillary Clinton calls for ending the Hyde Amendment. By conservative estimates, the pro-life Hyde Amendment, first enacted in 1976, has saved over a million lives. In lockstep, the 2016 platform of the Democratic National Committee, for the first time, called for ending this annually enacted law that prohibits federal Medicaid funding for abortion except in the cases of rape, incest or to save the life of the mother. Clinton would make expanding federal funding for abortion a major priority in the White House. Clinton's own website states "there is no more important issue than defending reproductive rights (a.k.a. abortion)."

4) In April 2015, in a speech to the Women in the World Conference, Clinton argued, "Far too many women are denied access to reproductive health care (aka. abortion) and safe childbirth, and laws don't count for much if they're not enforced."

In order to expand worldwide access to abortion, she suggested that "deep-seated cultural codes, religious beliefs, and structural biases have to be changed."

5) Clinton attacks bill to protect unborn babies from painful late abortions. In May 2015, the U.S. House passed the Pain-Capable Unborn Child Protection Act to protect unborn babies 20 weeks and older from excruciating late abortions. In addition to a statement slamming House lawmakers for advancing the bill, Clinton tweeted, "When it comes to women's health, there are two kinds of experts: women and their doctors." Clinton chooses to ignore the substantial medical and scientific evidence showing unborn babies are capable of feeling pain by 20 weeks after fertilization, if not earlier.

6) Clinton calls abortion a "fundamental human right." At a presidential forum held this year at Drake University, Clinton called ending the life of another human being a "fundamental human right."

7) Clinton's campaign attacked state-level efforts to enact commonsense protections for unborn children and their mothers. Clinton's campaign called the flurry of pro-life bills introduced in state legislatures the last few years "a dangerous trend." Her campaign complained, "In just the first three months of 2015, more than 300 bills have been introduced in state legislatures — on top of the nearly 30 measures introduced in Congress — that restrict access to abortion." Among the measures being discussed on the state level are bills dealing with unborn pain, dismemberment abortions, informed consent, parental involvement, and webcam abortions.

8) Clinton has pledged to appoint to the Supreme Court only people "who believe that Roe v Wade is settled law." The next president will nominate as many as three, possibly four women and/or men to fill vacancies on our nation's highest court. The prospect of those jurists being chosen by an abortion extremist like Hillary Clinton is frightening.

9) Clinton will defend Planned Parenthood no matter what and work to steer even more federal money into PPFA's coffers. After the stomach-churning undercover videos of Planned Parenthood officials discussing the harvesting and pricing of aborted baby body parts, Clinton stood firm in support of the abortion provider. She went as far as to say, "I'm proud to stand with Planned Parenthood."

10) Clinton likened pro-life Americans to terrorists. "Now, extreme views about women, we expect that from some of the terrorist groups, we expect that from people who don't want to live in the modern world, but it's a little hard to take from Republicans who want to be the president of the United States," Clinton said at a campaign event in Ohio on August 27, 2015.

Thank you for voting pro-life!

From the Legislative Director ~

WHERE ARE THE PRO-LIFE DEMOCRATS?

Missouri Right to Life is a non-partisan organization. We support candidates that hold a consistent ethic supportive of life at every stage of development, from conception/inception until natural death. Our issues transcend party. We ask the same questions of everyone. Those issues are not inherently supportive of or opposed to the philosophy or ideology of any party.

So where are the Pro-Life Democrats? How did the party go bankrupt? The National Democratic Party platform is aligned with the abortion industry, supporting abortion - on demand, without restriction or regulation, all the way through to the birth of the baby. Furthermore, the platform calls for funding of all abortions via taxpayer dollars. That is, you and I will be paying for the abortions. And these abortion payments are not limited to abortions in our own country, as the platform calls for the promotion of and funding of abortion around the world. How could Pro-Life Democrats allow such a platform?

Jerry Nieters

Consider this. In 1998, there were 22 Pro-Life Democrats serving in elected Missouri office. Missouri Right to Life PAC actually endorsed 33 Pro-Life Democrats in the general election that year. In 2013, there were only 7 Pro-Life Democrats in the Missouri House of Representatives. After the 2014 elections, that number was reduced to 3, and before the 2015 legislative session began, that number was down to 1, as 2 of the 3 elected Pro-Life Democrats had switched parties. And in this last primary election, only 4 Democrats qualified for an MRL PAC endorsement because all of the other Democrat candidates either failed to respond to our survey about their positions on our issues, or they had bad voting records, or both. Two of our 4 endorsed Democrats won in the primary. Thus, after this year's general election, we will have, at most, 2 pro-life Democrats serving in Missouri's elected offices.

There was a time when pro-life Democrats carried the day. For instance, had it not been for the dedication of Sen. Ted House and Rep. Bill Luetkenhaus in 1999, the effort to override the Governor's veto of the partial-birth abortion ban would not have been successful. We want these Pro-Life Democrat men and women to return!

Who is to blame for this lack of Pro-Life Democrats? There may be a tendency on the part of Pro-Life Democrats to believe that MRL PAC is a partisan organization and disregard its endorsement. However, MRL PAC uses the same criteria to evaluate every candidate regardless of party. If Pro-Life Democrats are disappointed with the lack of Democrats endorsed by MRL PAC, we suggest you contact the Democrat candidate of your choice and ask why they are not pro-life. Also, you might encourage Pro-Life Democrats to run for office.

Pro-Life Democrats, make your voices heard! Don't allow the party to adopt a platform that promotes abortion without limitation and requires abortion to be paid for by our tax dollars. Let your representatives know that they will not have your support if they do not support the protection of life!

In Respect for Life,

Jerry Nieters

Missouri Right to Life Neutral on Raise Your Hands for Kids Tobacco Tax Initiative (RYHFK) - Amendment 3

Missouri Right to Life is taking a neutral position on the proposed tobacco tax initiative RYHFK because, after careful review, it cannot envision any scenario where grants would be given for anti-life purposes.

This initiative, RYHFK, will be Amendment 3 on your Nov. 8th ballot.

The Raise Your Hands for Kids Tobacco Tax Initiative will:

- Go to early childhood education,
- Go to educate pregnant women about smoking cessation;
- Be available for Private schools, including Christian schools;
- Be available for Pregnancy Resource Centers.

Those opposing the RYHFK Tobacco Tax Initiative include those in the business and research communities who support human cloning and life destroying research.

It is those who deceived with Amendment 2 in 2006 who are opposing Amendment 3 because the monies from this tobacco tax initiative will go only to educating children and pregnant women on the dangers of smoking and will not be available to them for open-ended research.

These are the same people who deceived the public with their Amendment 2 initiative in 2006, enshrining the right to clone humans in our state constitution.

They said they would never seek public funds, and yet they have been after public funding through our state budget for their life-destroying research through any means possible.

Vote PRO-LIFE

Tuesday, November 8th

INSIDE -

MRL PAC CANDIDATE RATINGS
& ENDORSEMENTS

Faith, Elections, and the Supreme Court

In a few weeks, Americans will cast votes for President, Vice President, and U. S. Senators, among others. The destinies of millions of unborn human beings will be determined by this election, for the new President will nominate, and the new Senate will confirm, as many as four Justices to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Abortion law in our country is largely made by the Supreme Court, like it or not. That's why pro-life majorities in Congress have not been able to turn off the abortion holocaust in this country.

The importance of protecting innocent human life has been reaffirmed by many religious leaders in recent years.

"[T]he messengers to the Southern Baptist Convention ... affirm the dignity and sanctity of human life at all stages of development, from conception to natural death; and . . . we reaffirm our repudiation of the genocide of legalized abortion in the United States and call on civil authorities to enact laws that defend the lives of the unborn; and . . . we call on our fellow citizens of good will to collaborate with us on behalf of justice, the protection of human life, and the cause of human flourishing."

Southern Baptist Convention, Resolution:
On the Sanctity of Human Life (2015)

"Christians are called upon to be good citizens by impacting the State in positive ways. . . . [T]he issue of equal protection of life under the laws of the State is not a private but a public matter."

Evangelical Presbyterian Church
Position Paper: Abortion (2013)

"The direct and intentional destruction of innocent human life from the moment of conception until natural death is always wrong and is not just one issue among many. It must always be opposed."

U. S. Conference of Catholic Bishops, Forming
Consciences for Faithful Citizenship, no. 28 (2016)

"Abortion remains a sin against God, whether or not it is legal in our society; therefore, we must 'obey God rather than men' (Acts 5:29). The church needs to inform its members that abortion is sinful and then encourage them, as Christian citizens, to use available legal means to change the law."

The destruction of over one million unborn humans every year in America is a concession to death and despair. When you vote for President in November, carefully consider which candidate vows to appoint pro-abortion Justices to the Supreme Court who will expand death and destruction for the unborn and force us all to pay for abortions whatever our religious beliefs may say, and which candidate stands against such unworthy intolerance.
